The piano recital at the First M. E. Church, South, given last evening by Miss Julia Muse, assisted by Mr. Ernest Ziegler, violinist, was very successful and should encourage these young people to renewed efforts in a musical

Miss Muse adapted herself to a variety of composers and played with fine style and splendid touch.

Mr. Ziegler assisted ably and his numbers were greatly enjoyed.

Woman's Club Pushing Refuge For Juvenile Unfortunates

Inhuman Outrages To Be Prosecuted in City and County

An important meeting of the Humane Department of the Woman's Club was held Thursday afternoon in Miss Yancey's office in Sutton street. A large number of women from both city and county were present and the greatest enthusiasm and interest were displayed in the plans of the committee for humane work in this vicinity.

The first step necessary to the success of this movement is the passage of laws and ordinances covering cases of cruelty to children and animals; also a failure of fathers to support their families, and a committee has been appointed to investigate the laws now in force and to secure whatever legislation may be required to forward the work. The Club has been assured of the co-operation of city and county officials in their undertaking.

It was unanimously decided to investigate and prosecute every case of cruelty observed or reported, the members to attend these trials in a body. The Club will also investigate conditions surrounding the Court Day stock sales and have a committee on the ground to see that animals receive humane treatment.

Several cases of cruelty were reported and discussed by the members, who will give them immediate attention.

A communication relative to a case of distress in Brown county, Ohio, was presented and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter at once and report same to the proper Ohio authorities.

The most important matter brought before the Club was a plan for securing a Children's Home for the unfortunates of this city and county. There is a fund of $180 at the disposal of the Society to be used in starting a Home and a committee is now looking for a proper location for the institution.

The plan as outlined and accepted is to locate this home if possible just outside the city limits. A building of eight or ten rooms and four or five acres of ground will be sufficient to meet present needs.

No one acquainted with existing local conditions will deny that such a home is a crying need. There is at present no suitable place to send homeless children even temporarily, and it is stated that there are at least one dozen children ready to be placed in the home as soon as it becomes a reality.

If the financial side of the matter can be satisfactorily arranged, there is no reason why the institution should not be open before September. An effort will be made to secure a state appropriation to carry on the work, but as some of Maysville's leading citizens have become interested in the project, there is no doubt that the necessary finances will be volunteered by men and women who realize what a blessing this Home will be to our community.

It is good to see this great work started in Maysville where the very spirit of humanity cries out and has cried out for years for the suppression of inhumanity to children and the lower animals.

24 VOTES FOR TAFT

The National Committee Almost Unanimous in Alabama and Arkansas Contest Cases

CHICAGO, June 7.—Twenty-four delegates from Alabama and Arkansas were added today to the Taft column by the action of the Republican National Committee on the so-called Roosevelt contests from those states.

All of the contests presented before the committee today were decided in Taft's favor, and in all but two the decision of the committee was unanimous, although roll call test apparently had shown fifteen anti-Taft votes.

Like the wine at the marriage feast, the best comes last—naming the price. Think of new silks, all this season's, in fully 75 different patterns, right at the beginning of summer with months of wear ahead

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The National Committee is evidently Rooting for Taft.

Any man can nominate himself, but electing one's self is another thing.

This weeks delegates score stands: Taft 6, Roosevelt 10. But Taft is at the bat.

Colonel Roosevelt may be a very brave man but its a cinch that he shies at steam rollers.

By winning the 48 delegates from Ohio Judson Harmon has proven that he is some politician himself.

There is one man never mentioned in all this political strife, who no doubt wields more influence than any dozen of the big Iks who make the noise. His name is John Dollar-mark Rockefeller.

The "Money Trust" investigators in Washington are discovering that there is something wrong with the banking system. But we all knew this. What the country wants is legislation, not investigation.

The New York Tribune in noting the appointment of a woman as an inspector in the new bureau for the prevention of fire, says:

"Women are not the loafers men are. When a woman works she works conscientiously. She works her full hours and spends none of them going out to get a drink or for a friendly chat."

That is a telling point. When women have work to do, they do it. They keep at it. They don't invent an excuse to run off and leave their work four or five times a day. Loafing is not the habit of women. A woman loafer does not belong to the English language.

Woodrow Wilson, the schoolmaster-candidate for President, is probably taking his post-graduate course in the political university this summer. Its back to the books for Woodrow after his term as Governor of New Jersey ends.

A Few Snap Shots.

It may come to such a pass that Taft and Roosevelt shall strip to the waist and fight it out at Chicago, like the prize ring gentry.

Nothing can be made off John D. Rockefeller. This doesn't refer to money.

Unless there is a dark horse at Chicago it may result a pale horse for the Republicans in November.

As Roosevelt makes so little of Taft as an opponent now, he might make less of Bryan in November.

That Indiana preacher, who took a lady other than his wife to Conference for convenience is now on the stool of repentance.

That lady who informed on the recreant Indiana preacher at Minneapolis may have been incited by envy, who knows?

That dispute between Cook and Peary sinks into insignificance by the side of the rippit between Taft and Roosevelt.

Business will have to lag until the Republican fight at Chicago is fought to a finish or some one's beaten to a frazzle.

Whenever the Government as they say has Rockefeller up, he puts oil up correspondingly.

An Indiana preacher seeks to excuse the brother connected with that late scandal by saying the woman threw blandishments about him; tentacles as it were like those of a dead fish, we suppose.

CORRECT.

There was fire in Mrs. Naggs eye as she met her lesser half.
"I caught you flirting, sir," she exclaimed.
"That's right," responded Mr Nagg. "That's just how you landed me."

Flanders "20" Roadster, $750

Don't be alarmed if somebody tells you you can buy an automobile for less money than the $750 Studebaker-Flanders "20." You can, but you better not. The Flanders "20" corresponds point by point with the best and highest priced cars sold. Cheaper cars at every vital point are built on ideas long ago discarded for good cars. Don't take our word for it. Make comparisons and see.

The Studebaker-Flanders "20" is a marvel—a high grade modern car at a low price. If you pay less you buy much less. And the cheaper car today will cost you far more in the long run. The competing car isn't sold which the Studebaker Corporation, the greatest automobile manufacturers in the world, couldn't reproduce for less money; but we won't build a cheap car, because the name "Studebaker" means the best for your money.

If you are content with a car that runs today and dies tomorrow, don't buy the $750 Flanders "20." It will wear for years. Remember this—the Studebaker-Flanders "20" will outwear 2 to 1 any other car under $1100 and give you double satisfaction, confidence and comfort into the bargain.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

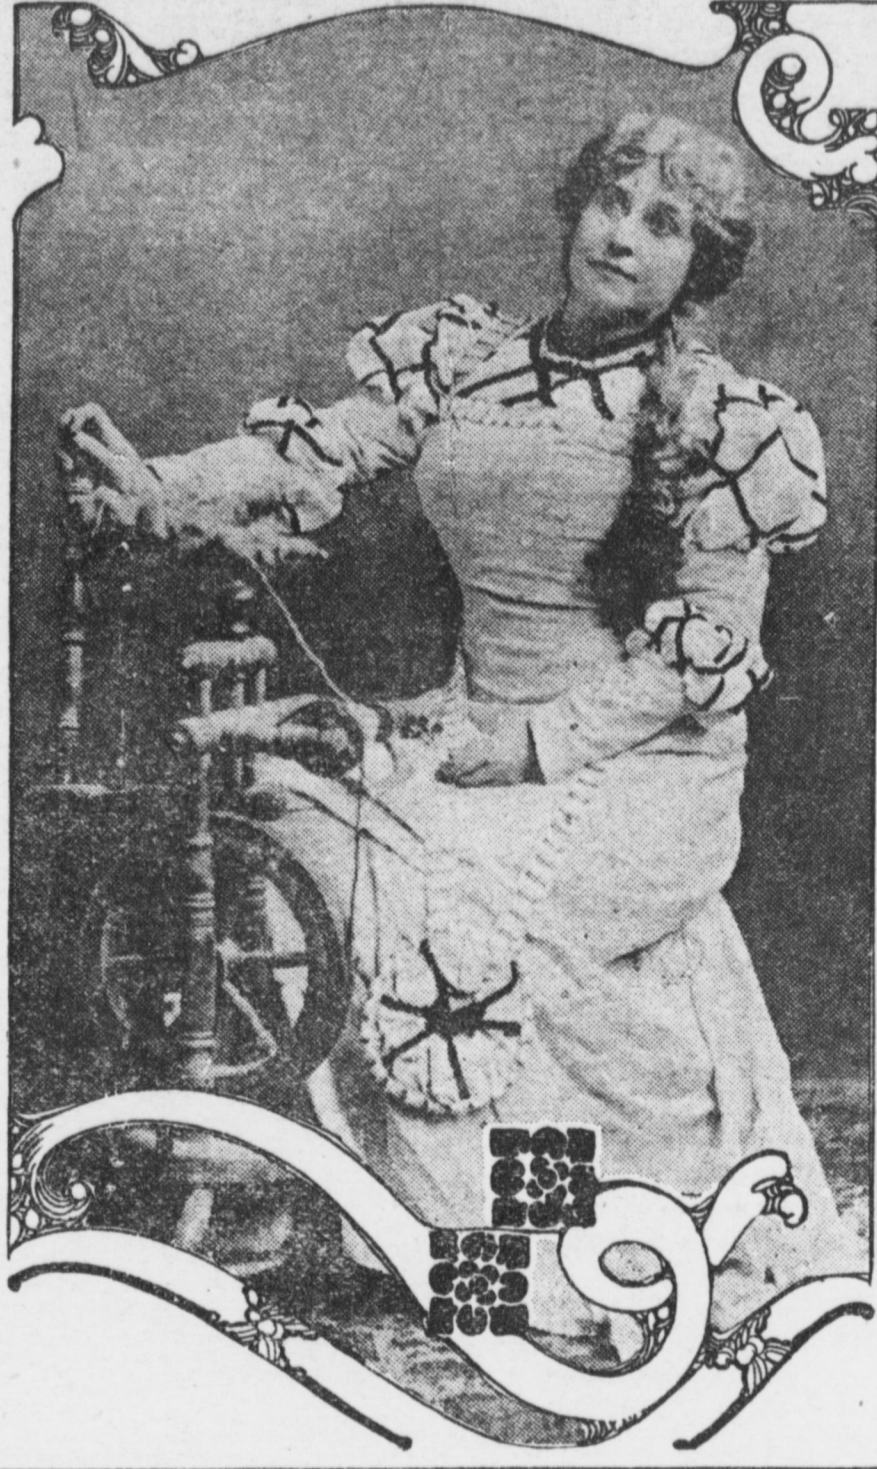

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health. It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women. In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

She has appeared at the Wagner festival performance at Worms as Elsa in "Lohengrin" and as Elizabeth in "Tannhauser" at Innsbruck. She also appeared in Carlsruhe as Leonora in "Il Trovatore" and as Marguerite in "Faust" at Nantes, France; also took part in a festival performance at Trieste. Mme. Le Brun studied under Julia Gavarotti in Milan at the age of eighteen. She also studied under Ugo Angeli, her studies, therefore, being all in the pure old Italian school. She came to America with the Royal Italian Opera company and played a season in New York. Here Mr. Henry Savage heard her and engaged her for a three years' contract as prima donna of his then English Grand Opera company, after which she returned to Europe. For the past three years she has had her own company, has made New York her headquarters and has played all the big cities of America.

WEEK BY WEEK

EACH WEEK APPEAR THE STATEMENTS OF MAYSVILLE RESIDENTS

Last week it was a Maysville citizen who spoke. The week before it was a Maysville citizen who spoke. The week before, and for many weeks before it was a Maysville citizen who spoke. And again this week it is a Maysville woman. You are not asked to act upon the word of a stranger. The best guide to the accuracy of the statements is the encouraging words of neighbors, is always given.

Mrs. Louisa A. Hafer, 316 W. Front street, Maysville, Ky., says: "The statement I gave in 1908 recommending Doan's Kidney Pills was correct and I am pleased to confirm it. For ten years I had trouble from my back and although I tried various remedies they seemed to do me no good. I had pains across the small of my back and sharp rheumatic twinges in my muscles. I had nervous and dizzy spells, and seemed as tired in the morning as if I had not been to bed. Finally on the advice of a member of my family, I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They soon relieved me."

Historic Blackguards

By Albert Payson Terhune

Copyright, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World)

Dick Turpin, the Hero of a Wonderful Ride

DICK TURPIN was a robber who was very justly hanged for his crimes. There are so many legends woven about his sordid career that it is hard at this late day to sift the facts from the fiction. Some historians say he was a fascinating daredevil. Others say he was merely a stupid ruffian. It is due to this variance as well as to the strangeness of his alleged exploits that Turpin figures as a historic blackguard. Here—as well as truth can be separated from fancy—is the usually accepted story of his life:

Richard—or Dick—Turpin was born at Hampstead, England, in September, 1709. His parents were poor. They apprenticed him in early youth to a butcher. But Dick took a more than neighborly interest in other people's cattle. At last he was caught stealing steers that had been sent to his employer for butchering. To steal cattle in those days was a "hanging offense." Turpin fled for his life, scoring the first of his many escapes from justice.

He joined a gang of thieves and became their leader. But he soon tired of associating with rascals of duller brains than his own. Moreover, their blunders or treachery might add to his own danger. So he left the gang after he had learned all the villainies its members could teach him.

Sometimes, in later days, he would employ one of his old comrades as an accomplice. But most of his crimes were committed single-handed. He became a highwayman and his name quickly spread terror throughout the whole countryside. Railroads and telegraph were not yet invented. News traveled slowly. So did everything. Now and then a message or letter was carried fast across country, on horseback, with relays of speedy horses waiting from point to point. But the usual mode of travel was over heavy roads in a heavier stage coach.

There were lines of stage coaches drawn by four horses. Passengers filled the roof and body of the vehicle, while a guard, armed with a blunderbuss, sat beside the driver to protect the lives and valuables the coach carried. Gentlemen of wealth had private coaches in which they traveled between their country homes and London. Naturally, the coaches often held large sums of money and jewelry, and the passengers were in the habit of carrying plenty of cash with them. All this made the stage lines favorite haunts for highwaymen.

A coach would round a turn in the road to confront a masked horseman whose leveled pistol threatened the guard even, while his disguised voice croaked: "Stand and deliver!" Often the masked man would overawe the passengers, make them line up in the road, rob them and the coach, then jump on his horse and gallop away with his plunder. Before the police could be notified he was usually many miles away.

Turpin was one of the most daring of these highwaymen. Not content with robbing passengers, he would often play quaint tricks on them. If his demands for money were resisted he had no scruples about sending a pistol bullet through his opponent's brain. Altogether there was much brutal crime and little poetry about him.

The most picturesque of Turpin's feats was his famous ride from London to York—an adventure whose truth some writers doubt. Dick had committed an atrocious robbery near London. Knowing he was recognized, he set out to secure an alibi. Mounting his mare, Black Bess, he galloped to York. The distance was 200 miles over bad roads. The journey usually took four days. Dick made it in fifteen hours, and his mare dropped dead as he reached York. When Turpin was arrested for the London robbery he proved by reliable witnesses that he had been loafing about the York streets fifteen hours after the crime—a fact that seemed to forbid his having reached there by natural means. Therefore, it was decided he must be innocent.

Turpin was hanged at York April 10, 1720.

Machine to Guard Flocks.

Virgin Connell, a sheepman of Antelope Valley, has invented a novel device for protecting his lambs from coyotes.

It consists of an electrical device that sets off an explosion every hour and rises any given locality of coyotes. The timing of the explosions was set at 40 minute intervals after a close study of the traits of the destructive animals. The explosion causes a hasty retreat and before the coyote decides on another attack he is again scared off.—Carson City Correspondence Los Angeles Examiner.

Captain W. B. Dawson Blind Veteran Now Receives $600 a Year Pension

Uncle Sam is certainly good to all his old soldier boys.

The latest deserving old veteran to benefit from his bounty is Mr. William B. Dawson of East Second street who has just been allowed $60 a month pension, an increase of $30 per month.

This will make him an annuity of $600 a year, but as he is now blind it will require all that and more too, to make his afflictions even passing comfortable. Mr. Dawson was a member of Company C, of the old Sixteenth Kentucky Infantry.

Major John Walsh, the pension expert of Maysville put this case through and owing to the work of Senator Bradley the Senate made it a special case.

Major Walsh also announces that Mrs. Mary Hitt of this city, widow of the late James Hitt, gets an increase of pension from $12 to $20 a month.

TWO DISASTROUS FIRES

Country Home Burned Near Orangeburg and Barn and Stallion Destroyed at Mayslick

Last night about 11 o'clock the handsome new two-story frame residence of Mr. W. H. Valentine near Orangeburg was entirely destroyed by fire, together with all the contents, even clothing and food.

The blaze, which is supposed to have been caused from burning suit in a fire, burst forth while the family was asleep and Mr. Valentine, and four children barely escaped with their lives.

Two young children were in an upper room and in the excitement they were nearly smothered by the smoke, but owing to the daring of an older brother who went up after them and brought them out in safety, but the oldest was badly singed in so doing.

A new $400 piano which four men had hard work getting in a back door when purchased, was in the excitement of the moment rolled out the front door by Mr. Valentine, but was consumed after all.

The old dwelling near Mr. Valentine's new residence, used as a storage house for farm implements and vehicles, was also burned and very few articles were saved.

The total loss is $3,500; insurance $1,700 on the new dwelling and $100 on the old.

Mr. Valentine is the father of T. R. and Pickett Valentine of this city and a brother-in-law of Cashier R. K. Hoeflich of the Bank of Maysville.

Mrs. Valentine was in Maysville at the time of the fire.

The second fire was that of a large stock-barn belonging to the heirs of the late Andrew Fox, near Mayslick, which burned also about 11 o'clock; cause unknown, together with an $800 imported coach stallion, farm implements, corn crib, etc. Loss total $2,000. Insurance $600 on the barn and $100 on crib.

This $2,400 insurance in both fires was all the Mason County Mutual Insurance Co.
